

Michael Yue

Company: HTC Vive

Job Title: HTC Vive Enterprise Content Developer

Dear Mr. Newall,

I am very interested in the job position of VR enterprise content developer currently available at your company. I am a digital media artist and very eager to develop virtual and augmented reality as a mixed reality community for people to engage with. My works reflects many topics, ranging from urban, architectural, and interior design along with contemporary digital artworks. My digital skills include 3D modeling software such as Unity and Maya as well as programming language such as Java, Javascript, P5, C#, C. I have experience with VR systems such as Oculus Go and Google Cardboard.

I am very eager to develop virtual content through development platforms and bring new mixed reality content to the marketplace. I am looking forward with all different types of partners and team member spirit to complete all on a timely basis.

I will contact you next week to follow up with my application at HTC Vive.

Sincerely,

Michael Yue